Bankruptcy Administration Services

Overview

Bankruptcy administration requires professionals who understand the complexities of bankruptcy law and who can deliver accurate, high quality, cost-effective claims processing. As one of the nation's largest financial institutions, JPMorgan has the financial strength, technology and experienced staff to ensure all your bankruptcy administration needs are met. We are well aware of the rigors of bankruptcy administration, and we consistently demonstrate an attention to detail that distinguishes our services.

Experience

Experience counts. We bring a wealth of past bankruptcy service to each case. Our team is composed of legal, accounting, operational and system specialists who ensure that no matter how large or small, your case receives the attention it needs to ensure successful noticing, balloting, disbursing and claims management. JPMorgan's bankruptcy professionals appreciate your demand for responsive service, especially during the initial days after filing Chapter 11, and we understand the importance of always being able to reach your account manager. Our professionals are available 24/7; you will be able to contact them whenever you need them, night or day.
